MORE ABOUT ZACH

Sometimes you have to lose everything in order to find yourself.

Zach Gowen lost his dad at a young age. Lost his left leg to cancer at 8 years old. Almost lost his life to drugs in his 20s.

Yet through it all, he became the most recognizable inspirational athlete in the world when he became a WWE Superstar, battling the likes of John Cena, The Big Show, Brock Lesnar, and even Vince McMahon himself in the middle of the squared circle.

Daring to defy the odds, expectations, and limitations society imposed on him, Zach now travels the world sharing his message of hope and empowerment to children of all backgrounds.

Topics include, but are not limited to:

- Athletics
- Drug & Alcohol Prevention
- Surviving Cancer
- Faith Based
- Overcoming Obstacles
- Disability Awareness
- Resiliency

“He’s unbelievable! I would bring him back every year if I could. His message really hits home. There’s so many tough things out there now for our students to have to face and Zach’s gone through them all. It’s great to see him triumph in his life and to give back.”
– Tim McCardle, Principal at LeRoy High School in LeRoy, NY
